

A RIP VAN WINKLE JOURNAL.

The Virginia Chronicle is very much disturbed because the appropriations of the last Congress equal the entire national debt, prior to the war.

The Chronicle uses this argument in an endeavor to convince its readers that the country is about to become hopelessly bankrupt.

A sensible examination of the proposition shows that the country has grown since the war, and that the cost of running the country increases in proportion to its advancement.

The nation is in the same condition as a merchant who finds it costs more to run a four story brick establishment, than it did when his business consisted merely of a peanut stand on the street corner.

After the South failed on its efforts to dismantle the Union, its great vitality as a nation was fully demonstrated, and American securities are now regarded as gilded in the money marts of the Old World.

Since that time the country has displayed its tremendous recuperative energies, and every time the sun rolls across the sky that canopies this land, it gilds the United States with an additional million dollars of wealth.

After the war the country went ahead with great leaps of prosperity. The advancement was affected under a Republican regime.

The party was often charged with corruption, and justly, but never with old fogysm.

It simply costs more to run the country than ever, because it is bigger and older, just as the annual expenses of a man cost more than a boy's.

We are rounding up a quarter of a century of progress, and the Rip Van Winkle press of Democracy wonders why we are going ahead and why our expense bill is so large.

In ten years more it will probably be double, and go on increasing as it keeps abreast of the natural developments of the greatest nation of the earth.

NOT A QUESTION OF SPITE.

Some parties in this city have charged the APPEAL with being actuated by "spite" in demanding that the county demand satisfaction of the bondsmen of all county officials who have appropriated moneys to their own use, which should have gone into the treasury.

Now here is just where a good many people get things sadly mixed. The feeling of the Editor of the APPEAL toward the party charged has nothing whatever to do with the case. The question which just now interests the taxpayers is the guilt or innocence of the accused and the solvency of his bondsmen.

Mr. Edwards Clerk of the U. S. Court, was hired as an expert to go over the books and he reported that one of the county officers had received $400 which he had not accounted for.

Mr. Edwards received if we are not mistaken $250 for his work and the report is now in the hands of the County Commissioners.

The $400 shortage he reported would if received pay his fees as expert and leave a balance of $150. This is business.

Since this matter has been stirred up information has come to the APPEAL of other shortages of county officers which were allowed to run along and never collected for fear of hurting the feelings of bondsmen and the chances are that by this time most of the cases are outlawed, all because Grand Jurors are not attentive to business or fear to perform their duties.

Under the new apportionment, Ormsby will have to run along with one senator and three assemblymen.

The argument in the Stevenson will case contest, will be heard before Judge Rising on April 3d.
